

The graphic features the words "Instruction Writing" in a large, bold, yellow font with a black outline. The text is set against a background of a document with a pen resting on it. A red tab with the words "STEP-BY-STEP" is visible at the bottom of the graphic.

	Title which shows what the text is about. It may begin "How to..."		Adverbs for how the actions should be done.
	Sub-headings to break the text into clear sections.		Chronological order and time conjunctions
	An opening sentence which encourages the reader to have a go.		Technical vocabulary which is specific to the task.
	A clear list of equipment or ingredients needed.		Diagrams or illustrations with labels.
	Simple steps for each action in the method.		Technical/ topic vocabulary
	Imperative (bossy) verbs telling the reader what to do.		Closing statement which shows or describes what the reader has achieved.
	Bullet points or numbers for each step.		Modal verbs to show the degree of possibility (might, should, etc).

Paragraph 3- How to identify a vampire

- Remember to include the subheading, 'How to identify a vampire' first.
- Then explain the key clues on how to spot a vampire providing detail.
- Try and include some modal verbs (think back to last week).

Paragraph 3- WAGOLL

How to identify a vampire

There are a few ways to spot a vampire. Firstly, look for the physical clues. Vampires usually have sharp canine teeth, long fingernails and may have dark hair and eyes. Then, if you're feeling nervous in their presence, this is another indicator. You'll also never see a vampire in direct sunlight, only inside or at night. They loathe the light and are super-sensitive to their surroundings.

Paragraph 4- How to slay a vampire

- Remember to include the subheading, 'How to slay a vampire' first.
- Choose your weapon or weapons.
- Introduce which one(s) you're going to choose then give a step-by-step guide using bullet points to explain how to carry it all out.
- Remember to include those modal verbs.

Paragraph 4- WAGOLL

Classical but effective, the old wooden stake can come in extremely handy. This sharpened stick when pierced through their heart causes instant death...

Step one: Invite the vampire into your favoured location. (You must invite them in as they can only enter if you allow them to).

Step two: Next, lock all the doors and block all escape routes as they could try and escape.

Step three: Spread the mustard seeds on the ground to distract the vampire. Vampires suffer from arithmomania, which means they're obsessed with counting things, so mustard seeds should make the perfect distraction.

Step four: Once distracted, thrust the stake through the centre of their heart.

Step five: If the stake misses the heart and the vampire is just injured rather than dead, take their body outside and handcuff them to a tree with silver handcuffs to let the sunlight finish off your job.